Our platforms are still undergoing significant overhauls which are part of the way to ensure our services continue to be safer, faster, and more secure. Please check back later to learn more about our new policies and options. Thanks for your patience. Starting March 1, 2018, the official website of the State Budgetary Institution of the City of Moscow "Automobile Roads" is moving to a new software platform. The site at www.transport.mos.ru will become more modern and user-friendly. Please note that when accessing the specified website, incorrect information about the state of servers and/or availability of services may be displayed. This information is not official and can not be used to refer to the authorities and/or institutions. In this connection we pay your attention that in order to improve the website <http://www.transport.mos.ru> additional functionality will be realized which will allow users to get information about availability of transportation services, as well as get more precise information about transportation availability of specific streets and Moscow districts. To do this you will need to register on the site <https://hourmap.mos.ru/>. You also need to specify your e-mail address on the registration page to be able to use this functionality on the site <http://www.transport.mos.ru>. A notification will be sent to the specified address to confirm your registration. After that you will be able to use this functional to the full extent. Thank you for your attention and hope for further fruitful cooperation. In this case you should know that your browser is out of date.
