(Tucson News Now) — A Tucson man is behind bars after police found drugs and a loaded gun during a traffic stop. On July 7, Arizona Department of Public Safety officials pulled over a Ford Fusion that was going in excess of 100 mph on the Interstate 10. According to DPS, a drug dog “alerted” in the cargo area. A search of the vehicle turned up two large duffel bags filled with marijuana and cocaine. The passenger, 22-year-old George Robert Crum, was detained on multiple drug charges. DPS said a second search of the car turned up a loaded 9mm handgun in the console. Crum was arrested on multiple weapons charges. The car was impounded and seized. S.E.2d at 761-62.
